

Podcast Outline

- 00:00 Introductions
- 03:46 Clare shares with us a little bit about her background with animals and some stories from her early childhood
- 7:11 Here Clare shares information about her Ph.D. focusing on a review she did on popular dog books
- 10:41 Clare continues to talk about her Ph.D. and some studies she did looking at delayed reinforcement when training dogs.
- 23:19 Here we learn about some really neat projects Clare has been involved in including training Tuatara detection dogs and a project called puppies for prisons
- 28:15 Clare talks about training co-operative households where you have dogs living with other species.
- 33:06 This is the part of the podcast called story time. Clare shares a couple of stories from her career so far and some important lessons she learned along the way.
- 36:37 Clare takes us into the future and shares with us what she would like to see in the animal training and dog training world over the next 5-10 years