

Haylee Ellis podcast draft

- 00:00 introductions
- 3:07 Here Haylee tells us about how she got into animal detection training research and how this lead her to work with APOPO in Tanzania
- 6:21 Haylee tells us more information now about APOPO, their history, what they do and the amazing projects they are involved in.
- 14:47 In this part of the podcast we talk specifically about the process of training a Tuberculosis detection rat
- 19:21 Here we talk about Haylee's Ph.D. research that she conducted with APOPO.
- 25:03 Haylee shares one of her favourite stories of working with the APOPO rats in Tanzania.
- 27:42 Here Haylee shares exciting new areas where animal detection work is happening and the direction that she would like to see it take over the next 5-10 years.